The It Lounge at the festival

The IT Lounge was the It place to be during this year's film festival and ELLE got the inside scoop on all the lounged dished up for the celebs at the posh Windsor Arms Hotel.

Featuring some of the hottest items around, from EARTHCHILD CLOTHING (a Toronto-based organic clothing line for tots), to the hip T-shirt line Trove, to a body survival kit from Jamieson Laboratories (complete with the essentials for a week and a half long festival -- vitamins, stress relieve, and all things to keep up your stamina), the event drew in tons of celebrities.

Also included in the swag bags; Too Faced cosmetics (their lash-injection mascara is a celeb fave and a must for super-thick red carpet lashes), new environmentally responsible skincare line Moor Allure Naturals, the latest fragrances from Victoria and David Beckham, Intimately Beckham, the newest fall fashions from ESPRIT, and many others.

The ever stylish duo Brand Pitt and Angelina Jolie donated their gifts bags to Big Brothers Big Sisters, as did Terrence Howard and Mena Suvari who stopped by the lounge to check out the hot gifts. Leelee Sobieski and Canadian actress/model Tricia Helfer stopped by and enjoyed a glass on wine while they learned about all the amazing products at the lounge.

With the super hot celebs stopping by and the fabulous products, this year's film festival certainly got a huge boost from the IT Lounge!
